FOREWORD

We treasure the memories of our school life and realize that they will become even more priceless to us through the years. Perhaps, through the pages of this volume of ASH-HI-LIFE, we can portray to others and can keep for ourselves some of our most cherished memories.

It is the wish of the staff, that the joy received from this book in later years will repay us for our efforts toward making it a success.

*To Miss Cornelia Ayers, we
the staff of the ASH-HI-LIFE, dedicate this annual. She has devoted her time and energy to activities—social and academic. She has guided students with a firm
but tolerant hand. Her sterling qualities have won for her the admiration and respect of her colleagues and students.*

DEDICATION

ALMA MATER

*We want to help you fight for Asheboro High.
We want to help win victories too.
The letters A. H. S. will never die;
That is, if we can see you through—
We know we can.
And while you're out there fighting for a goal,
Just know we're praying for you heart and soul.
Let's give three rousing cheers for Asheboro High!
Asheboro High!
Rah! Rah! Rah!*

THE ASH-HI-LIFE

CLASS DIARY

1938-1939
SEPTEMBER Wide-eyed freshmen, we stumbled into our places on September 15. The girls and eighty-six boys, Misses Sue Brewer, Mary Moffitt, Virginia Barker, and Mabel Robertson were the guiding stars of the "green-horns."	OCTOBER One morning the Freshmen were called into chapel. There was an aura of mystery about everything. We trudged in, sat down, and awaited our fate. Several of the seniors ordered us to go up on the stage. Here began the Freshman initiation. What fun we had! The onion necklaces hanging about the necks of the frightened freshie females were hardly fragrant, but they tried to be good sports!	NOVEMBER We had made most of the necessary adjustments by this time. Many of our classmates entered enthusiastically into the extra-curricula activities.
DECEMBER The clubs were making progress. We found most of them interesting. Being Freshmen, we were overjoyed by the thought of Christmas holidays.	JANUARY With our return to school came worries of approaching exams. We were paralyzed with fear. What were high school exams like? They were not so bad. We got through the procedure with few casualties.	FEBRUARY During this month, we saw some exciting basketball games. Our New Year's resolutions to study harder were lost in the basketball schedule.
MARCH Baseball was shoving basketball out of the spotlight, but our basketball teams were waging some hard battles in the county tourney. Finally the boys' team emerged victorious, winning the trophy plus all the honors.	APRIL Buds were bursting from their little jackets, and we were ready to burst from the school house. Spring fever spread like a swamp fire among the "Freshies."	MAY Finals faded into the past and before us lay an inviting vacation. We were assured that next year our positions would be more dignified.
1939-1940
SEPTEMBER The bell rang to begin the school year of 1939-1940. One hundred and thirty-eight "sophisticated Sophies" marched through the portals of Asheboro High School — Sixty-four boys and seventy-four girls. At last! We had moved up from that lower rung of the ladder! No longer were we "frightened freshies."	OCTOBER We were really in the groove — the teachers knew that we were no longer innocent newcomers. They expected us to fall in behind the upperclassmen, pulling as few "boners" as possible. Our spiritual mamas and papas; Mrs. J. G. Pevette, Mr. Marshall Cox, and Mr. Randolph Allen.	NOVEMBER The football season was in swing. We took it upon ourselves to do a major part of the cheering. At this time, our school spirit knew no bounds. Our clubs were organized during this month. The girls busied themselves with homemaking, while the boys turned to athletics.
DECEMBER Those days before Christmas holidays were breathless with excitement. Around December twentieth we poured out of the school building with only one thought in mind, we were going to have a grand Christmas, despite impending exams.	JANUARY Exams reared their ugly heads. We fussed and fumed and studied a little. Luckily most of us pulled through.	FEBRUARY Second semester came and with it resolutions to study hard and pull up our grades. The basketball season was in its hey-day and we made it our business to support the team.
MARCH As March winds howled, we howled too. After all, a fellow gets tired of studying and forgets his resolutions. We were straining like horses at the bit for Easter holidays.	APRIL April, month of showers, spring fever and Easter holidays. The brief respite was indeed welcome. We returned, determined to pass finals.	MAY Month of sunshine, laughter and, Alas! final exams. We crammed, managing to come out of the ordeal alive. We left our Alma Mater looking forward to the summer and the following September when we would be—Judicious Juniors.

NINETEEN FORTY-TWO

CLASS DIARY

1940-1941
SEPTEMBER Nineteen forty and forty-one. The beginning wasn't so dreary that year, we were "Judicious Juniors". There were fifty-four boys and seventy-one girls. We felt in our bones that that year would be a honey.	OCTOBER By the month of harvest and hallowe'en we had elected class officers: Thomas Cole, president; Tyler Lisk, vice-president; Dorothy York, secretary; Ed Reaves, treasurer. Football occupied the October spotlight.	NOVEMBER Nine members of our class were invited to join that dignified organization—the Beta Club—the deserving new members were: Evelyn Auman, Thomas Cole, Thomas Millsaps, Jimmy Oliver, Carl Sheffield, Grace Towery, George Whitfield, Howard Wright, and Dorothy York.
DECEMBER We were all set to leave academic life for Christmas holidays to get into the social swing. Dances, movies, and fireworks provided entertainment. A wonderful time was had by all!	JANUARY Exams crept over the horizon and we were really worried this year. After all, we were eager to attain Senior ranking.	FEBRUARY In order to raise funds for the Junior-Senior, we became the world's prize "sponsors". We sponsored movies, dances, and plays. It worked for a while as if we wouldn't have a prom, but we pulled through by the skin of our teeth.
MARCH This was the month when ill winds blew no good. We frantically searched about for a theme for Junior-Senior. Swamped with suggestion and weary with worrying, we went into a huddle.	APRIL Out of the pow-wow came a sparkling idea—the "merry-go-round" theme was the brain child. We had loads of fun decorating for the Junior-Senior. It was a roaring success.	MAY Final exams loomed before us. After much fretting, we struggled through. We left school this year with our eye on the top rung of the ladder. Next year we would be "Sagacious Seniors."
1941-1942
SEPTEMBER This was one fall semester we didn't mind starting. It was our last and the one to which we had looked forward for so long. Class leaders: David Pulliam, president; Tyler Lisk, vice-president; Grace Nell Towery, secretary; and Sarah Henley, treasurer. Faculty advisers: Miss Massa Lambert and Miss Virginia Barker.	OCTOBER The Seniors got together and decided on a class ring. The choice was a blue spinel, a beautiful stone, mounted in old gold. Heroes of the gridiron continued to make feminine hearts beat faster.	NOVEMBER The rings arrived just before the Thanksgiving holidays. Excitement filled the air. Proud Seniors displayed the blue oval stone to advantage. Course several of our Casanovas lost theirs to the feminine population of ours and other high schools.
DECEMBER The Journalism Club gave to the world the snappy little paper, Ash-Hi-Chat. The editor-in-chief was Ed Reaves. He was assisted by competent snoopers and scribes. The school was one hundred per cent for the new journalistic venture.	JANUARY The annual staff was selected. Jimmy Oliver, editor-in-chief; Jesse Councilman, business manager; Miss Fordham and Miss Martin were the faculty sponsors. We weathered mid-term exams. After all, to err is fatal, especially in one's Senior year.	FEBRUARY The annual drive got under way. Tyler Lisk, circulation manager, proceeded full steam ahead. Daylight-saving time went into effect this month.
MARCH Try-outs for Senior play! Our Bernhardt's and Barrymores trying for leads in "Ever Since Eve" displayed their dramatic talents 'neath the critical eye of Coach Alton W. Parker.	APRIL Junior-Senior reception was the center of interest. The Juniors were the genial and able hosts. Practice for Senior pageant was begun.	MAY We really learned what the term "bitter-sweet" was all about. We hated to leave our alma mater, yet we didn't want to lag behind. When the "Great Day" arrived, we donned our caps and gowns and marched down the aisle to V . . . — !
